WITH UNLIMITED MONEY AND CONTROL NEW BODY EXPECTS TO HELP ARMY.

TEUTONS MUST BE CRUSHED

Czar Says That Only By This Means
Is Permanent Peace
Possible.

AMERICANS LOST WHEN LINER WAS TORPEDOED

(Associated Press)
Washington, June 30—Consul Armstrong, Bristol, reports that the Dominion liner Armenian
was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine off Cornwall,
England, at 8 o'clock p. m., June 29. Twenty lives were lost and ten were injured. Ten Americans are missing.

The Armenian was a British ship and sailed from Newport News for Avonmouth. She was 8800 tons displacement.

All official reports indicate that the Germans and Austrians are pressing through southeastern Galicia and southern Russian Poland. Petrograd says that enormous losses were inflicted on the enemy during the withdrawal of the Russian forces.

"Must Crush Enemy."

In an Imperial rescript, issued in connection with the formation of the Russian Board of Military Supplies, Emperor Nicholas says: "The enemy must be crushed, for without that peace is impossible."

With unlimited money and with power over all private industries the new board expects to remedy the shortage of munitions which has been a serious drawback to the Russian forces.

Weather Hampers Italy.

The Italian campaign against Austria has been hindered by unfavorable weather.

Many Dead Turks.

Athens says that in the trenches recently taken by the French 6000 dead
Turks were found.

Maritime Activities.

The Norwegian sailing ship Cambus-kenneth from Portland, Ore., to Liverpool, and the Norwegian steamship Gjeso have been sunk by submarines with no loss of life. Eight German sailors on the Cambuskenneth
were taken aboard the attacking submarine.

Part of the crew of the Cambus-kenneth, was shipped from Portland, Oregon.

Counter Claims

Two lines of Turkish trenches
were captured east of Saghir Dere and five lines were stormed west of that place, according to the British official announcement. However Constantinople says that Monday at Avi Burno and Seddul-Bahr the allies were repulsed with heavy losses
and that two lines of the allies' trenches were captured.

No Further Statement

In the House of Commons today
Premier Asquith, replying to a question asked yesterday by Mason, liberal, whether the government would state the terms upon which peace was possible said: "It would not be to the public interest to add anything to what I have already publicly stated
on the subject."

tee which is in charge of the indus-

the evening features of the monster celebration to be held in Dixon next the event. It is sure from the list of entries that the contest for the prize which has been offered for the best

Injured Girl Is Suffering Severe Pains In Head

There Are Also Indications That May McNair Is Hurt
Internally

Miss May McNair of Arabia, Neb., who was in the automobile with her parents when their machine was struck by a Northwestern passenger train on a crossing west of Franklin Grove on Monday afternoon, is not getting along as well as had been hoped for. In being thrown from the machine she struck on the side of her head and is complaining considerably of pain. There are indications of internal injuries. Miss Helen, who was also slightly bruised, was able to leave the hospital this morning and join her parents at the hotel.

The automobile was brought to this city yesterday morning and is now at a local garage undergoing repairs. It will be several days before the machine will be in condition to be run again.

FRANKLIN GROVE HAD ANOTHER ACCIDENT

CLINTON, Ia., AUTOMOBILE WAS DAMAGED IN COLLISION ON MAIN STREET

Clinton, Ia., June 29—As A. W.
Miller in his big Pierce-Arrow, with a party of Clinton gentlemen returning from the races at Maywood, was coming home Saturday evening, he met with an accident that inflicted some damages to the car, one of the handsomest in the city. They were running along the main street in Franklin Grove, going about six miles an hour, due to the recent oil-ing of the thoroughfare, when a youth named Nash, driving a small machine, ran into the car.

The lad, who is but seventeen years of age, never saw the oncoming car, and ran his machine directly into the right side, breaking the mud guard and light. The very fact that the big car was running slow doubtless saved the lives of the two in the small car, as it was damaged as much, if not more than the Miller auto.

Bystanders agreed to the verdict that the driver of the small car was entirely to blame and a trip home in the country followed, the boy's father or promising to pay the damages and do what was right. As the Pierce Arrow was a special order, new parts will have to be brought from the factory.

DENEEN MEN MEET TO PLAN DEFENSE AGAINST LOWDEN

CONFERENCE HELD IN CHICAGO
TODAY TO COMBAT MAYOR
THOMPSON'S ACTIVITY.

DENEEN MEN ARE UNDER FIRE

They Say Thompson Wants National Committee Place; Lowden
For Governor.

(Associated Press.)
Chicago, June 30—Garrett Kinney
of Peoria, Chairman of the state republican committee, conferred here
today with National Committeeman West, former Governor Deneen and other republican leaders.

They say that they are under fire from the forces of Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago, who is said to want the national commit-teemanship himself, and Colonel Frank O. Lowden, who is said to want the gubernatorial nomination.

The Deneen forces are said to control the state and county committees but the Thompson-Lowden faction are organizing to obtain them for themselves.

Today's conference of the Deneen
forces is said to have been arranged to formulate defensive plans.

Y. M. C. A. PROVIDES REST ROOM MONDAY

MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN IN-VITED TO MAKE USE OF THE BUILDING.

On next Monday for the big celebration to be held in this city the directors of the Y. M. C. A. have decided to hold open house at the association building at the corner of Galena avenue and Third street and the building will be thrown open to the use of women and children. This will make an ideal place for people to rest as every convenience can be found at the building. On an occasion of this kind a resting place for ladies with children is a necessity and the directors will receive the thanks of all for their consideration in throwing the building open.

PLAN "BOULEVARD BEAUTIFUL" HERE

NORTH CRAWFORD AVE. REST-
DENTS TO BEAUTIFY THAT THOROUGHFARE

Residents of North Crawford avenue are formulating plans to make that thoroughfare the "Boulevard Beautiful" of Dixon; and if the proposed scheme is carried to completion—present indications are that it will be consummated—the title will be a most appropriate one.

The completion of the brick pavement on the street will make it one of the cleanest and neatest looking streets in Dixon, and it is now planned to plant profuse shrubbery in the park places between the side walks and the curbing, on both sides of the street.

WILL HAVE HOLIDAY HOURS

Housewives Will Postpone Washings
For Big Celebration.

The celebration of Independence day in this city on next Monday will out the city. It falling on wash day, most of the housewives will postpone the weekly washing for one day. Some of the business houses will remain closed for the day while part of the dry goods and meat markets will remain open until about noon. Nearly all the clothing stores will remain open the entire day. The banks will remain closed and the customary holiday hours will be observed at the postoffice.

SUFFERS FROM BLOOD POISON

Miss Mary Keenan, who accepted
a position at the Dixon Grocery, was obliged to give up work Monday after her first day's work at the store, on account of a severe case of blood poisoning in her foot. Miss Keenan graduated this year from the Dixon High school and her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

CEMETERY ACCOUNT IN COLLECTOR'S HAND

CURE AMOUNTS LONG PAST
DUE

There was mailed out of the City
Clerk's office today about seven hundred statements of accounts due Oak wood cemetery for the care of lots or for interments. The lot care for the year falls due on July 1 and the statements are brought down to date.
Many persons are careless after receiving the statement and do not attend to it and as a result a large amount of money is being carried on the books. All accounts that are not paid up within the next few weeks will be placed in the hands of a collector as the Commission is anxious to get the books straightened up.

Guests At Clark Wedding Derailed During The Night

Mrs. Clark Organized Relief
Party Without Disturbing
Bridal Couple

(Associated Press)
Bowling Green, Mo., June 30—Hundreds of guests from other states, thousands from Missouri, to whose people Speaker Champ Clark issued a blanket invitation, scores of members of Congress, Col. Henry Watterson, Col. George Harvey and many others of note are here today to attend the late afternoon wedding of Miss Genevieve Clark, aged 30, the daughter of the Speaker, to James F. Thomson, editor of the New Orleans Item. The wedding took place on the lawn at the Clark home. The town is elaborately decorated and many special trains ran into the city.

The rose garden was the place
for the ceremony and the guests gathered there at 4 o'clock. Rev.
Robert Sherman Boyd, whose wife is a cousin of Miss Clark, officiated.

Mr. Clark gave his daughter in marriage. She had eight attendants.
Paul Thomson was his brother's best man.

The bridesmaids were Miss Anne and Miss Susan Bennett of Kansas City,
Miss Dorothy and Miss Imogen Thomson, sisters of the groom, of Summit Point, W. Va.; Miss Jean Roberts of Alexandria, Va., and Miss Murray
Sanderson of Bowling Green.

Train Derailed.

Four cars of an Alton train from Kansas City bearing wedding guests, including two brothers of Mrs. Clark, left the rails six miles west of here at midnight. The news reached Mrs.
Clark at 1 o'clock this morning and without awakening her husband or any member of the bridal party she and her son organized an automobile relief party of correspondents and society editors and sped to the scene.
None of the passengers were injured, however.

AUTOS COLLIDED AT CORNER TUESDAY EVE

WILBUR LEAKE AND ROY HART-ZELL WERE VICTIMS OF A SLIGHT MISHAP.

There was a collision between two automobiles Tuesday evening at the corner of Second street and Ottawa avenue, but no one was injured. Wilbur Leake had started to turn the corner from Second street to go north on Ottawa avenue and at the same time
Roy Hartzell in the little stripped car
from the Joe Miller garage came up the hill going south on Ottawa avenue. Other cars being along the street at the time it was impossible for the drivers to avoid hitting each other.
The fenders on the Leake car were bent while the frame on the stripped car was bent.

Startling Extravagance Was Displayed By Sterling Men

Once in a while something really funny happens in this old world, and the people of Sterling must be credited with having done their part in furnishing humor to lighten the woes of those who have to live there. But Sterling at last out-Sterlinged itself.
In the city where they quit blowing curfew at 9 o'clock in the evening because it disturbed the slumbers of the populace, they have suddenly discovered that Dixon is going to have a real celebration of Americanization Day next Monday. And in the dread alarm that some of the Sterling people may come to Dixon, rather than stay in Sterling and wait to see
"steen" dollars worth of fireworks shot off in an empty lot a long ways
north of town, and by coming to Dixon become imbued with some up-to-date ideas, the Sterling papers are seeking their beds.

SOIL IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION WILL PROBABLY RESULT

PICNIC AT AMBOY TODAY SHOWS
THE MOST ENCOURAGING ENTHUSIASM.

U. S. AGENT URGES MOVEMENT

W. F. Handschin Says County Work
Is Here To Stay and Lee Should Be In.

(Special to Telegraph)

Amboy, June 30—A thousand people gathered at the Green River park today to attend the promotional picnic arranged by Lee county men who wish the organization of a soil improvement association, and those who were here had a most happy and beneficial time.

During the morning music was furnished by the bands and an interesting ball game was staged by the Lee Center and Sterling baseball teams.
Sterling won 6 to 2. Charles Keenan of Dixon pitched for Lee Center. The teams lined up:

Lee Center.
Ulrich, cf; Kelley, ss; R. Callahan, 3b; L. Callahan, c; Gale, 2b; Peter-man, 1b; Lenahan, lf; Keenan, p and Taylor, rf.

son, 2b; Pfundstein, 1b; Johnson, p;

Handschin Speaks.

After a good picnic dinner the real beneficial part of the picnic started when Herbert Connors of Amboy,
in his welcoming speech, introduced W. F. Handschin, joint agent of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the state department of soil improvement.

Mr. Handschin told of the work that had been done in the way of soil improvement about the country, and he said positively that county work is here to stay. Illinois now has eighteen counties which engage soil experts, and is getting $10,000 yearly from the United States government to assist in carrying on this work. He predicted that in 1922 the state would be receiving about $180,000 from the government for this work, and urged Lee county to get in on this good work.

The interest and enthusiasm are excellent, and it is very probable that the organization of a soil improvement association and the engagement of a soil doctor will result from today's picnic.

REPAINT HIGHWAY MARKERS

Consul Whitcombe In Charge of the Work On Lincoln Way.

Consul A. B. Whitcombe of the Lincoln Highway in Lee county and Daniel McKenney today made a trip over the highway leading east and west of this city, touching up the signs on the poles along the route. In some instances the bands of red, white and blue had become faded and were hard to distinguish.

Miller Stitzel of Nelson was here
today.

Miss Agnes McFadden visited in Dixon today.

AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES — PENNSYLVANIA

The University of Pennsylvania is located in the fastnesses of Philadelphia, and was America's first University.

This statement will be received with indignation by Alumni of Harvard, Yale, William and Mary and other aged schools. But they were still colleges when Pennsylvania became a university in 1779. It was then forty years old, having been started as a charity school.

Pennsylvania has a campus over fifty acres in extent and profusely decorated with buildings and students. It has over a dozen departments, including the oldest medical school in America and a Veterinary School which teaches every known disease of the horse, and is now experimenting with Ford's. It also has the largest chemical instruction laboratory in the world, but is still struggling along without a stadium large enough to hold 100,000 cases of temporary insanity at once.

Pennsylvania has more students than Harvard, Yale or Princeton, but they are not so hard in the heads or so versatile in the legs. Because of this fact its football team has not shone very brilliantly in the last few years, and although it is one of the "Big Four" it has to play Harvard or Yale by mental suggestion.

However, Pennsylvania is very famous in track athletics. Its students usually out-jump and out-run the rest of America each spring with great ease. A Pennsylvania graduate can be easily distinguished by the grace with which he hurdles automobiles in the crowded city streets.

Pennsylvania is an eastern school, but it is distinguished by its unusually fine courses in geography. Most of its students can bound the United States and can tell whether St. Louis is a river or a foodstuff. This knowledge has been developed by the fact that Pennsylvania plays football with Chicago and Michigan, and in other ways endeavors to encourage the great West.

Pennsylvania has not been as extensively advertised in literature as some other schools, but it has produced 22,000 alumni who are willing to stand on chairs and yell for it at every opportunity.

THAW ALWAYS SANE
ALIENIST TESTIFIES

Peculiar Swearing Marks Progress of Slayer's Trial.

New York, June 30.—Dr. Charles P. Bancroft, head of the New Hampshire State Hospital for the Insane and a member of the federal commission which examined Harry K. Thaw during his sojourn in New Hampshire, swore on the witness stand that in his opinion Thaw not only was sane, but always had been sane.

Dr. Bancroft testified as an expert alienist in the jury proceedings to determine Thaw's mental condition.

Thaw's act in killing Stanford White, Dr. Bancroft said, was not the product of a systematized delusion such as characterizes the true paranoia.

"The killing of Stanford White," he said, "appeared to us a passionate, impulsive act, growing out of a condition of mind due chiefly to anger and jealousy, which was the final culmination of a series of circumstances that had been bearing down on him a long time. It did not seem a type of paranoia, but was due to jealousy of Mr. White, not to a diseased condition of mind."

SCHOFIELD HOTEL AND COTTAGES

This popular resort is almost as well known as the Dells. It has been entertaining summer guests for forty years, and has lately been enlarged in capacity by the erection of a large modern building, fully equipped with every modern convenience, and affording dining room, assembly parlors, etc. This is an addition to the popular cottage plan, and adds to the previous popular attractions of the older system. The hotel and cottages are in extensive grounds, delightfully shaded by large oaks, and being away from the river is most especially desirable for families with children. The location is in the edge of Kilbourn on a pretty residential street, but a pleasant walk from the river and depot, and with regular free bus and carriage service to these points. The large hotel is not surpassed in this locality in point of modern style and comfort. The annex cottages and grounds make it altogether everything that anybody would desire. The test of efficiency is in the table. This hotel is especially noted for its excellent table board. Fresh butter, eggs, vegetables and fruit are supplied daily from the farm, and its preparation by a professional chef is perfect; chicken dinners twice a week.

family for week or longer. Rooms with bath must be applied for in advance. Rates: $2 per day, $12 per week, half rates for children; rates made to family for week or longer. Rooms with bath must be applied for in advance. Free use of garage.

MAXWELL TOURING CAR
THE WONDER CAR AT
—$625—

FROM the crowned heads of Europe, who keep fleets of from eight to twenty motor cars for their own personal entourage, to the independent private citizen, all take pride in owning an automobile that not only acts well but looks well.

The Maxwell Company realized this universal characteristic. A motor car to be popular and salable must be handsome.

Three things enter a MAXWELL car which make it appeal to the purchaser's pride, Extreme European streamline design, handsome exterior finish, and comfortable riding qualities.

These, together with the Maxwell's ability to "hold the road at 50 miles an hour," to carry its passengers faithfully, safely and regularly to their destinations, at the minimum cost, make the Maxwell the car you will want.

Don't Buy until you have seen and tested the Maxwell

THE NAME BEHIND THE CAR
CASE MODEL R
Develops 40 Horse Power
The Car of Quality, Simplicity and Refinement
BEAUTIFUL-----POWERFUL-----COMFORTABLE

We invite comparison. We ask you to place the Case by the side of any other car, selling within 300 dollars of the price of the Case, and compare them part by part, then judge for yourself as to value and true merits of the Case. Look at the FINISH of the two cars. See the nice, smooth finish on the CASE. Compare the RADIATORS. Take into consideration that FREEZING DOES NOT INJURE THE CASE RADIATOR. Inspect the mechanical construction of every part of each Case car. Put them to the test—through the mud, up the hills, in the sand, over roads that are hard and rough. The harder and rougher the better, we're suited. Any car will run smooth on good roads. It takes a GOOD car to RUN SMOOTH on ROUGH roads. WE LIKE TO DEMONSTRATE THE CASE ON ROUGH ROADS.

To The Man With An Open Mind

he who learns truth for himself and acts according to such truth, to him the Case Car affords a world of contrast and comparisons. Here is a car built by a concern that has spent over seventy years building motor machinery that has satisfied men everywhere. All over the world—in every country—the name Case is known as a standard of excellency.

Let us show you where the Case Co. spends where others must save. This insures a better car at a less price. We sincerely believe there is no other car on the market selling at the same price of the Case that will compare, item for item, in equipment, or mechanical excellency with this Case model R.

SEE IT, INSPECT IT, COMPARE IT TO OTHER CARS BEFORE YOU BUY.

Progressive Conversational

Mrs. George Loveland delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon with a "Progressive conversational" and anyone who was there would abandon any ideas they might have that the women of Dixon society are care less fritterers of time. Topics were given to picked groups, the members of which rotated, so that everyone had an opportunity to exchange ideas with everyone else. One of the topics provocative of a wealth of discussion was "What Is Dixon's Greatest Need?" Dixon's social and physical welfare was discussed from all view points, and such items as a centralized park, a recreation hall for the employed men, a dandelion day when all the citizens should war against this lawn pest, and many other of like interest, were suggested.

The home decorations partook of the woodland spirit, such woody flowers as big, white daisies and bachelor buttons being used, while the refreshments were eaten on the lawn from Indian baskets.

Completely Surprised

Mrs. J. C. Heckman of Fairview farm was most pleasantly and completely surprised last evening when between 30 and 40 of her relatives and neighbors went to her home in a body on the eve of her birthday. Mrs. Heckman was so surprised that she was scarce able to greet her visitors, but soon a happy evening was in full swing. At 10:30 a delicious two course luncheon was served and the remainder of the evening was spent in music, vocal and instrumental, furnished by the hostess' daughter, Miss Bertha, and social converse until midnight, when the guests departed, wishing Mrs. Heckman many happy returns of the day. Mrs. Heckman was the recipient of many beautiful postcards from her guests.

THE NEXT REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

According to reports, the republicans are going to dare fate, or else are banking on the proverb that lightning never strikes twice in the same place, and will hold the 1916 National Republican convention in Chicago, Illinois, welcomes the convention again this year and at the same time hopes that its guests will this time deport themselves in a manner which will not bring us all in such bad repute.

It is safe to say, however, that there will never be another national republican convention like that of 1912. The republican leaders soon saw their mistake and, whether right or wrong, they found that the people did not approve. The convention rules have been changed, as they should have been long before, and all factions will get a "fair shake." There are undoubtedly certain faction leaders in the G. O. P. who would like to operate the steam roller again, but they will not be allowed to monkey with the machinery. The mass of the republicans of the country love their party and do not propose to see it wrecked by selfish leaders who would use it to further their own ends. The voters are wide awake now and they will see that the men who carry the standards of the party are worthy of the honor and will not abuse the trust placed in them.

The men who ran the 1912 convention did nothing, however, that had not been done at every previous convention. They were simply following the rules, and the rules, unfair though they were, were only used against the men who had used them against other men in the past. That convention was needed to demonstrate how antique the rules were and the party is better for the renovation and the checking it underwent in those arduous days of the 1912 campaign. A more vigorous, cleaner, more useful party has grown up from the supposed ruins and the republican party today is stronger and more influential than it ever has been.

BOOKER WASHINGTON'S ADVICE.

Booker T. Washington, the noted negro who is doing more for his race than any other man, is more than a humanitarian. He is a philosopher. In a recent lecture during a tour of the south he said:

"Settle down, settle down and get identified with some one place. Then build up there reputations for sobriety and industry. If you can't find the right place in the city, go to a small town nearby, or get back to the soil. At any rate, settle down and get hold of some property and start a bank account. You will soon find that your savings are growing and that you are growing faster and bigger than the bank account.

"Get into business if you have to start in a small way. There is many an immigrant who sold peanuts or papers or fruit when he first came here, and then saved up and saved up until now he owns a big store or is a banker. There are too many young negroes who see their white friends smoking 25-cent cigars and want to smoke them, too, forgetting that not so many years back their fathers or grandfathers of these friends were probably smoking three-for-five-cent cigars. And when you find one of your race who has started a little business, patronize his store. I walked through West Sixty-first street in New York the other night and noticed that every one selling something on the street was white and every one who was buying was black. This is a color line which is your own fault. No one is going to stop you from starting in a business of your own."

While Dr. Washington's advice was given to the members of the colored race, it is just as applicable to those whose skins are white. His admonition against the wanderlust is timely to white and black. The spirit of unrest is the greatest curse of our age. It is the spirit that recruits the army of the unemployed and eventually fills the almshouses. Men and women are unfair to themselves if they do not take up some line of endeavor and devote every ounce of energy they have to it before admitting failure. When they find themselves in a rut is the time to seek new pastures.

UNCLE SAM'S SUNKEN SUBMARINE.

The cost of raising the submarine F-4, sunk in the harbor of Honolulu, is estimated at one hundred thousand dollars, more than one-fifth of the cost of the boat, but if it should full duplication of the original cost or the cost of a substitute craft, the expenditure should not be denied.

If the task lies within the limits of engineering possibilities, this boat should be raised. The bodies of her commander and crew lie within her and should be recovered and given burial, though no other resting place may be more fitting than within the walls of the ship which was to them their country and in which they went down in the performance of their duty. But it is the duty of the United States to other men who risk their lives in service like that the boat should be raised and the cause of its loss be determined, if possible. The details of the tragedy may not be uncovered when the craft shall be brought to the surface, and yet it is possible that in the last hours of waiting for certain death the helpless men penned a message of vital importance.

The navy department owes it to the men it send down to the bottom of the sea to those who mourn them intimately, and, more than all, to its own conscience in the efficiency and perfection of its craft, to raise the F-4, absolutely without regard to expense.

SPAIN HAS WAR FEVER.

Spain has the war fever. Although her government would like to remain neutral, the people are strong for war. Preparations for the conflict are being made on a large scale. Munition factories are working at top speed and uniforms are being turned out as fast as they can be made. Report says that Spain will be in the fight by September. We worried long about what Italy was going to do and now we must take on Spain. It is said that she will join the allies, but Germany seems to be able to take care of all comers.

TO KEEP THE BRIDGE CLEAN.

Some provision should be made for keeping the Galena avenue bridge free from dust this summer. Sprinkling would do it but sprinkling has its disadvantages, for the boards and rails become dangerously slippery. A thin coating of oil soaked into the boards might solve the problem or generous use of the street sweeper might help. Automobiles crossing the bridge stir up a great amount of dust, to the exceeding discomfort of foot passengers. The foot passengers have as much right on the bridge as the machines and their lights should be protected.

In the center of the brides' table was a large mirror upon which rested a wicker basket with handles tied with bows of pink chiffon and filled with pink roses and ferns. ## FIGHTING PERILS 2,000 FROM U. S.

Conditions in Mexico City Are Growing More Serious.

BRITISH MESSAGES HELD UP

Gonzales Not Likely to Take Capital for Some Time—General Angeles, Villa Leader, Would Like to Confer With President Wilson—Denies Story of Conspiring With Huerta.

Washington, June 30.—Meagre advices received at the department of state confirmed earlier reports of the serious conditions in Mexico City, where 2,000 American residents are endangered by fighting between the Zapata and Carranza forces on the edge of the city with a desperate scarcity of food and no railway or telegraphic communications with the outside world.

From Vera Cruz came further reports that Carranza claims that General Gonzales will be able to take Mexico City in a day or two with the aid of reinforcements being sent to him, and assurances that Carranza had not only given orders for the proper protection of non-combatants, but would also send food into the city as soon as he had captured it. The state department's information indicates that Gonzales is not likely to succeed in capturing the city from the Zapatistas for some time.

British Embassy Messages Held Up.

The British embassy learned that Charge Hopler, at Mexico City, has succeeded in getting messages through to Vera Cruz, but that the Carranza authorities are refusing to let the charge's messages pass over the cable. The embassy instructed the consul to make vigorous representations to Carranza. Nothing has been heard by the embassy from Mexico City in eleven days, a fact which is regarded as serious.

Angeles Would Meet Wilson.

Washington, June 30.—The Villa agency has been busy in conferences with General Felipe Angeles, Villa's right hand man, who is regarded as a possibility for the presidency of Mexico.

Angeles came here from Boston, where he has been visiting his family, primarily to refute reports that he had associated himself with the Huerta movement.

His visit to Washington was hastened by the publication of the fact that agents of the department of justice had been watching him and that they had reason to believe that he was allied with the Huerta group. A statement denying these reports was issued by Angeles. He said also that he agreed with Villa in support of the suggestion of President Wilson that the factions in Mexico should confer and endeavor to unite for the establishment of a constitutional government in Mexico.

Angeles Would Meet Wilson.

Much interest was shown here in reports from the president's summer home at Cornish, N. H., that a request was made of the president that he receive General Angeles. General Angeles said he would be glad to have an opportunity to meet President Wilson, but that such a meeting was not the chief object of his visit to the United States. He is returning to Mexico City to join Villa after spending a few days in Washington.

CHAPTER VIII.

The War in the Fog.
The War in the fog is like organizing a fire department when the streets of a city are already in flames. This is what the chiefs of the army were trying to do—had been doing day and night desperately ever since the troops had come together. And in Washington in the archives of congress there were lying sheaves of reports, gathering dust, that had demanded nothing except the chance to do it in time.

Here were regiments of militia so "organized" by their states that if they were permitted to go into battle as they were 170 companies of infantry would face the enemy without a single cannon to protect them. Of all the eastern militia cavalry in that camp only one regiment had a machine gun company. [Tables 17 and 18, pages 228, 229, Annual Report Division of Militia Affairs, U. S. A., Oct. 1, 1914. * * * "The states which send their infantry into active service without having made every possible effort to supply it with an adequate field artillery support will see in the needless sacrifice of that infantry the cost of their shortsightedness in time of preparation."—A. L. Mills, Brigadier General, General Staff, U. S. A.]

Even the regular army was efficient only in those things that could be maintained and perfected by the steady personal efforts of officers and men. In everything that depended on legislation it was lacking. Instead of 150 congress—"a great deal of waste and extravagance is sure to result."—Henry L. Stimson, Former Secretary of War.] To none was this better known than to the enemy. The invaders' commander, standing idly with his hands in his pockets, was able to say confidently: "They'll not bother us seriously. The only thing they'll do, the only thing they can do, is to retreat when we begin to threaten them."

He held in his grip the sea, the land and the air. Inshore lay ships ready to sweep part of his front with protective fire. On land his advance forces had seized roads and railroads, his engineers were repairing what had been destroyed, and his cavalry was guarding all approaches. His air men, overwhelmingly numerous, spied on the American army almost with impunity and parried with sure aerial thrusts all American attempts to spy on their own lines.

The aerial guard, steel breasted, with the wings of speed and talons of fire, could be broken only by equal numbers equally terrible. Individual daring, individual skill were nothing against this armored brood. Five times American fliers rose to try it, and five times they were grappled in midair and torn with shot and dropped to the earth far below. "No more!" said the general in command.

He sat with his chin in his hand studying the dispatches that were laid before him. They were piled high, though twenty operators and half a dozen aides struggled to eliminate from the torrential confusion the news that might be deemed most reliable.

was occupied. Narragansett Pier was flooded all at once with men and guns. With the swiftness of a blow from a fighter's fist the invader had struck and won the entire railroad system of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad in Rhode Island and commanded the way to Providence.

The foe had filled his divisions. Forty thousand men were ready for battle on American soil, with 10,000 in reserve on the coast.

Now the wind turned southeast. Point Judith, Rhode Island's cape that coastwise mariners call the Fog Hole, began to brew one of its April fogs, gray and blind and wet.

Its first effect was kind to the Americans. The enemy air craft, seeing the vapory bank growing from the sea, fled toward their lines. From all directions they came in like gulls fleeing before a storm. They could not dare to remain in strange territory. All their fine maps, all their ingenious instruments, would be impotent against it. They came in and alighted behind their army.

Freed from them and masked by the fog, the American scouts went forward again and groped once more along the foe's front. In an hour field telephones and telegraphs and aerial told the American commander enough to assure him that the enemy's force in men was at least nearly equal to his own. He knew, too, that the invader had brought up preponderating artillery. Every road, every piece of negotiable country, was held by guns.

The American army held tight. In its front, between it and the foe, there was not a rail line, not a bridge. All had been destroyed. Behind it lay a perfect railroad system, with long trains and giant locomotives under steam and all the gathered motor vehicles ready to speed.

So far the fog was kind to the defenders. But the invader, too, was quick to seize his favor.

Long before half a dozen men, dressed like fishermen, had made their way out of Narragansett harbor in a small sloop and had reported at the enemy headquarters. For a month or more past they had been fishing for lobsters. But they had caught more than lobsters. Their catch lay on the table in the commander's tent in the form of charts, with soundings and range lines in distances. They were maps of the mine fields.

As soon as the fog began these men went aboard a mine sweeper. It steamed eastward, followed by the others. The sweepers had more than the cables and grapnels that make a mine sweeper's outfit. Set in rows on the after deck of each vessel were bulging mines, filled with 300 pounds of trinitrotol. [Trinitrotol, now being used in Europe, largely for under water work, is one of the most violently acting explosives known today.]

The fog became so thick that it was hard to say if it were daylight still or night. Night could only make it more black. It could not increase the obscurity.

In the coast defenses of Long Island sound and Narragansett bay every man was straining eyes and ears and nerves. Every gun company was at its weapon. Every gun was loaded. Tall projectiles stood ready, with the chains and grapnels of the hoists prepared. Men stood waiting in the powder magazines under the batteries.

Nothing to see or hear at Fort Wright, on Fisher's Island. Nothing at Fort Michie, on Gull Island. Nothing at Fort Terry, on Plum Island. On all the shrouded, swift tideways that led into Long Island sound there was nothing.

There was nothing in front of the Narragansett defenses that eyes could see or ears could hear. Nothing—and then, far out, it was as if a sea monster had arisen in dying torment and lashed and spouted and screamed. Before the riven column of water could fall there came muffled, thundering explosions under the water—one, two, three!

The defenses split the fog with fire. Their mine protecting batteries had been trained over the fields long since. There was no need for aim. Instantly they swept the hidden sea with shells that would clear twenty acres of water.

Again there was silence and blindness—the unearthly silence of the Atlantic sea fog. It lay for half an hour, as if there were no such thing as war in the world.

Then once more came the roar and the crash, followed by its submarine echoes. Once more the land guns raved, firing blind.

The enemy was countermine. Instead of sweeping, his vessels were dropping mines of their own in the fields, and then, backing off to avoid the fire from the batteries if they could, they exploded them by electric contact to blow up the American mines with the shock.

Not all the mine sweepers escaped mines or guns. But there were vessels to spare and lives to spare. All night the countermine went on, and all night the guns fired into the vapor and the darkness.

The sun arose invisibly. But it climbed, and when it had lifted all its disk above the rim of sea it shined through the mist as a pale illumination. It was "burning off" the fog.

"It will be clear enough in an hour," said the executive officer of a battleship under Black Island. The vessel's wireless began to speak.

On one of the mother ships men brought out and assembled an armored biplane. Its two fliers stowed range finding apparatus, aerial telegraph, aneroids and charts in it. There were signal flags and light, brightly silvered balls. Men brought receptacles that contained bombs and adjusted them carefully in place. The fliers waited, watching the fog.

It lessened. It tore away in rifts. All around the ships became visible.

Seven battleships swung around and put on speed and rushed in echelon toward the coast. They steered straight for the mouth of Narragansett bay, turned just outside of the zone of fire of its defenses, slowed down and steamed across the mouth.

The biplane's engine burst into life. The machine lifted and followed them. It flew high over them and into the bay, climbing.

"They're over it!" said an officer on a ship, looking at the machine through his glasses.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS; USE SALTS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 600 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

"OUR MOTHERS."

A toast for the land! "Our Mothers"

—today;

A goo sensible subject to toast—

For we "children" all may have some thing to say

Of the best friend on earth we can boasts.

Yes, "our mothers," yours, and

mine,

Heart leaps to tongue, to confess

her name,

The name of mother—Doth it not shine,

Ever and ever, with brighter flame?

Shine in our hearts from Childhood's

dawn

On through the years of life's domain—

On through the narrow portals, when

she's gone

And left but the memory of her

sacred name—

Mother! 'Tis for thy children alone

to know

The love, thy name encircles within

A love-lit name, which like a circled

rainbow

Makes all heaven and earth akin.

Adown the age, in the beginning of time,

The human race in Mother Eve began—

When God sent in the world a Redeemer Divine, He thorough His blest Mother, was born, and made man.

A mother's name—a world's renown,

Of mortal conquest or earthly fame,

ALL unite in the end to crown

MORE glorious conquests, in Mothers' name.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WELL

MANY DIXON PEOPLE KNOW IMPORTANCE OF HEALTHY KIDNEYS.

The kidneys filter the blood. They work day and night. Well kidneys remove impurities. Weak kidneys allow impurities to multiply.

No kidney ill should be neglected. There is possible danger in delay. If you have backache or urinary troubles,

If you are nervous, dizzy or worn out, Begin treating your kidneys at once;

Use a proven kidney remedy. None endorsed like Doan's Kidney Pills.

Recommended by thousands. Proved by Dixon testimony.

W. Walford, blacksmith, Peoria avenue, Dixon, says: "I used to have quite a lot of trouble with my back and kidneys. The kidney secretions were irregular in passage. My back ached, too. I used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and the pains left my back and my kidneys became regular in action."

(Statement given May 21st, 1912.) NO TROUBLE SINCE. On January 21st 1915, Mr. Walford said: "I have had no kidney trouble at all for the past few years and I give the credit of my cure to Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Walford had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

FATHER WITH AUTO IS CHASING SON ON BIKE

Red Hot Race Is on Through Several States.

Chicago, June 30.—A speeding automobile rushed by farm houses, barns and waving fields of corn, through country towns and villages in Will county. At the wheel sat a frantic father, for he knew that somewhere beyond Beecher, Ill., his twelve year old son was pedaling his way toward a place that he might never reach, and he could picture all kinds of accidents that might befall the boy on the bicycle.

Eugene Flitcraft, son of Clement S. Flitcraft of Oak Park, was easily the leader in the race across country, for he had a forty-eight hour start which the boy himself told J. H. Bohlman and William Claus of Beecher would terminate when he reached White Lake, Mich., the home of his grandmother.

When the parents discovered that the boy was missing they were told that he had been kidnapped by gypsies and was being held for ransom, but this theory was shattered when J. H. Bohlman, who runs the general store at Beecher, talked to Mr. Flitcraft over the long distance telephone. Bohlman described the "lost" boy, even to the color of the bicycle and of the boy's eyes.

The senior Flitcraft hung up the telephone receiver, rushed out to an automobile in front of his house and the race to overtake the boy on the bicycle began. Telegrams were sent ahead of the speeding automobile in an effort to stop the lad.

Diamond Edge Hatchets are made in all the various styles. The cutting edge of each hatchet is made of extra crucible steel, carefully tempered, thoroughly tested, and ground down to a perfect cutting edge. The handles are carefully set, and they have that balance and feel that the workman demands.

A Diamond Edge Hatchet costs you a few cents more than the other kind. For these few cents you get the difference between the thoroughbred and the scrub; you get the finest of steel; the tested quality of temper; the careful balance; the perfect finish; the "true" and "clean" that satisfies. You are justified in paying any reasonable price for such quality.
